POLICE COURT ITEMS.—Among the prisoners in the Police Court this morning was an elderly man with short-cropped white whiskers, minus an optic, who had been arrested for begging on the street and evading and abusing the officer who accosted him. He was charged with being a suspicious character and with loitering around the northwestern portion of the city and terrifying white women. He said he was employed at a brick yard near Washington. It appeared he had given trouble on another occasion and he was fined $5 and in default of payment will be placed on the chain gang.

The last case called was that of George Griffin, El Griffin, Thomas Jones, John Travers, John Gilman, a young man named McManis and Mrs. Williams. They were charged with forming part of the gang which invaded the almshouse last Monday night. Thomas Stantling and Elbert Wheatley were made witnesses, but they said they did not recognize any of the accused as being with the crowd on the occasion referred to. THE TEMPLARS. Colorado Commandery, No. 1, of Denver, before a throng of 18,000 people, captured first prize in the competition of drill teams from commanderies of the Knights. California Commandery, No. 1, being the only mounted command, had no difficulty in capturing the trophy for the best appearance and drill on horseback.

What is known as the independent membership question precipitated a hot fight at the meeting of the grand encampment yesterday. It ended by the encampment sustaining the ruling of Grand Master Lloyd.
